

First of all you should never cry

You must explore all possible means and try

There is something wrong in it if you feel shy?

You should not repeatedly ask for it and if at all why?

Who wants to stand by your side and share the grief?

Who wants to act as friend and precisely to be brief?

Why not give one trial for someone to rectify mistake?

Why not breathe peace at ease as possible energy intake?

It must remain deep rooted inside with complete calm

It may give strength all the time and do no harm

It will always remind you to come out of its shock

What else can we do except hearing sound in the clock?

It is of no use to guard it in walls of heart and mind

It may block the way of thinking for any solutions to find

It is better to avoid unpleasant matters to gain control

You must walk freely in the streets with easy mind and stroll

These things are essential for those who doesn't want to fight

Meekly submit to unhealthy things and surrender the rights

Who prevents them to regain and restore the lost pride?

Is it necessary to live in shame and not to confide?

Whenever you prefer to cry for a moment and lessen the burden?

It will give you some relief as plant is watered in the garden

You may come out of shock and adjust to routine as usual

This is incorrect approach and need not be taken as casual

You must love to live with crisis

There is no logic behind or any thesis

How life can be different from any angle?

After all we are human beings and not animals from the jungle

We must have enough alternatives to reach the shore

Violence must be met with violence and not to abhor

It will be considered as giving away the rightful place

So we must stick to it and prepare for any eventuality to face

Tears should fall only when happiness is returned

It shouldn't happen when faced with problem or offer is spurned

Tears can move cruel or strong hearted person

You should shed it only when you have enough reason

You may have good nature and tendency to forget

Don't prove vulnerable to any of designs as weak target

You may have stand of your own and face the music

Events may turn in your favor or result as tragic