

Why do we rejoice at success?
Why it is considered bad for any excess?
Is it not good to have easy access?
Everybody wants continuity and no recess

We throw lavish party and gather friends
How much happiness as if world will never end!
It is human psychology that works very sound
We can analyze and reasons are naturally found

No one is prepared to receive unforeseen blow
No anxieties and worries may like to show
It is only when it becomes totally unbearable
We go for its solution and too long and durable

We have yet to develop balance side
You may need to visualize it from angle wide
There is no need to cover it or hide
Lie low with failure and with success you ride

Life is combination of push and pull
Nothing may stay permanently and rule
It is clear wisdom that may help to overcome
Any suggestion or way out is always welcome

How does mind react when faced with failure?
It may go off the balance and think of bad future
So many thoughts may cross over and compel
We got to keep cool and try to push it away or repeal

We are bound err when mind is not at rest
Nothing can rescue us from delivering the best
It is in fact real opportunity to pass the taste
It will be mere loss of chance and considered as waste

Try to ride high with velocity of wind
Never think of any guidance or path how to find/
It may be there at the end of the day
We must be prepared to jump in the fray

It is not misadventurous to explore the field
It may prove fruitful with the results to yield
We must hold ground firmly to feet
See through eyes when they try to meet
