

You, you were there for me You, you showed what life could be Though time was short Words were wise The love ran deep And you were there for me You played like a child When the time was right Knew when to cuddle And give some space Your eyes spoke in ways Words never could If I needed help I knew you always would And you, you were there for me You, you showed what life could be You never questioned why Yet always answered well Had a way of making me tell Getting me to face What I tried to hide You always knew What I felt inside Though it's harder now I know you still do Though you had to go And wherever you are Time will never erase That you, you were there for me The love ran deep Words were wise And you, you were there for me
